

Courses offered for credit at Hebrew Seminary do not meet on Shabbat or any time on Saturdays, Sundays, Arvei Yom Tov, Yamim Tovim, Tzom Gedalyah, Asarah BeTevet, Ta’anit Ester, Purim, Shiv’ah Asar BeTammuz, and Tish’ah Be’Av. Each course meets on one single weekday whenever classes are in session, at set publicized times. Fall and Spring Semester courses each meet 15 times prior to final exams automatically scheduled to take place during the time of the weekday when the class normally meets. 1 weekday prior to Fall and Spring Semester final exams is allotted for study. 1 weekday after the Fall and Spring Semester final exam period is allotted to allow for alternative testing arrangements to be made upon approval of the instructor or Rosh Yeshivah should the normal classtime not prove possible for testing.

Summer Semester courses each meet 8 times prior to final exams automatically scheduled to take place during the time of the weekday when the class normally meets. Due to the scattered distribution of course meetings over the summer, 2 separate weekdays prior to 2 distinct blocks of Summer Semester final exams are allotted for study. 1 weekday after the Summer Semester final exam period is allotted to allow for alternative testing arrangements to be made upon approval of the instructor or Rosh Yeshivah should the normal classtime not prove possible for testing.
